

SA Home Owner LOVES...

Living spaces that echo comfort and style

COUNTRY HOME COSINESS

Danela Conti – Interior Design & Resort Wear’s signature mood, not look, is easy lived-in luxury, which works particularly well in this country house in KwaZulu-Natal due to its open scaled proportions and beautiful surroundings. The sandy tones simultaneously offset the greenery outside and create a cocoon of earth shades inside.

ENGINEERED FOR THE MINIMALISTIC LOOK

The aim was to create a hotel look for a Limpopo-based holiday home. The bathroom had to be clean, classy and elegant. As usual, Motama Kitchens and Interiors adopted a minimalistic approach. www.motama.co.za

NATURAL LIVING

This light interior home, situated in Monaghan Farm, was sustainably designed by Veld Architects to utilise natural light as well as the sun, angles in winter and summer. The aim is to establish a connection with nature and living and to blur the lines between the interior and exterior.

A MODERN CLASSIC

Onnah Design created a space that inspires and reflects effortless comfort and timeless style. With the client based overseas, the space had to have international and local relevance and appeal. The interior consists solely of locally curated furniture pieces and décor items, with a subtle reference to the local African context. Colour tones were kept warm and neutral for the desired calming effect while layers of texture maintain interest and a contained excitement.

DECORATED FOR STYLE AND LIVING

Nestled in a coastal forest estate, this house reflects the airy laidback natural forest that surrounds it. These home owners wanted a casual yet sophisticated home to relax in. The inside living areas merge effortlessly with the exterior entertainment spaces, and provide an escape from the daily hustle and bustle. In addition to making the most of the setting, this home allows for relaxed living at its stylish best. www.studiomitchell.co.za
